

Foto: FES/Kleinschmidt

Dr. Sabine Fandrych has been secretary general and managing board member of the Friedrich Ebert Foundation (FES) since July 1, 2021.

Previously, she headed the Political Academy division of FES since 2017. From 2010 to 2016 she was director of the FES state office in Baden-Württemberg. In the years 2007 - 2010, Sabine Fandrych was the country director of the FES in Ethiopia, where she also built up cooperation with the African Union. She began her work abroad as a seconded employee of the foundation from 2000 - 2004 and 2006 - 2007 as head of the FES office in Angola. In 2004/2005 she worked as a consultant for organizational development and reintegration policy at GTZ (now giz) in Angola.

Sabine Fandrych was born on January 22, 1968 in Burghausen, studied political science, social anthropology and Portuguese linguistics at the LMU in Munich (1996 master's degree). From 1996 to 2000 she worked as a freelance research assistant at the Institute for African Studies in Hamburg, where she was responsible for lusophone Africa, preparing reports, yearbook articles and scientific publications. After various consulting activities and research stays in Mozambique and Angola, she received her doctorate in 2000 at the Institute for Political Science at the University of Hamburg with a scholarship from the Friedrich Ebert Foundation. She wrote her dissertation on local politics and peacebuilding in Mozambique.